“From Our Partners

"Hotel Equities gives us the opportunity to collectively serve our associates, communities, and investors. By focusing on value, HE and Witness leverage each other's strengths to continually improve."

Aakash Patel, Principal, The Witness Group

"Being a strategic partner means aligning yourself with industry leaders that share a likeminded daily purpose and desired vision for the collective business. It's about creating synergies that ultimately benefit all stakeholders here in the present and in the future."

Mark Williams, Principal, Cookley & Williams

"Our partnership has been both a blessing and betterment for our properties and partners as we have a laser-like focus on maximizing investment value via our KPI's, shifting share from the competition and capitalizing on the recovery at hand. In short, we have both momentum and mojo being married to HE!"

Doug Dreher, Principal, The Hotel Group

"Our relationship enables more eyes on our assets and our people. It means more ears for listening, more hearts for understanding, and more minds for growing. What I can do alone, we can do together but faster and better and that is what we're most excited about."

Ganisha Sethi, Principal, Sethi Management
